have admitted that they were mistaken and we were right.

"I am not an enemy of labor," he continued, "and I want every laboring man to get fair play. Labor unions have as much right to exist as our organization. Everyone knows that the prevailing rate of wages and the eight-hour labor law has done serious damage, and I am glad that it has been declared unconstitutional. It drives business to other states. I am in favor of eight hours, but I want at the same time to work as long as I like. I am in favor of paying the highest rate of wages and giving the shortest work day."

Court Gives Motice.

Chief Justice Gilbert gave notice from the bench this afternoon that he wished all lower courts to cease taking jurisdiction in Denver election in Denver election matters, and also notified members of the bar present that they must desist from trying to further involve the Denver election cases by seeking to have other courts take jurisdiction.
